

The following Subscripts are referring to:

CH<sub>4</sub> Methane gas

∞ Ambient conditions

ig Ignition

f Flame

pt Heat of the burnt gases

t Heat liberated

References

[1] World Oil and Gas Resources Assessments, By Central Energy Resources Science Center, USGS, By Central Energy Resources Science Center, April 26, 2019.

<https://certmapper.cr.usgs.gov/data/apps/world-energy/?resource=conventional>

Date:30-12-2021, Time;10:12 PM

[2] Gaydon A. G., and Wolfhard H.G., Flames, 'Their Structure, Radiation and Temperature', Chapman and Hall, 4th ed. London, 1979.

[3] Jamel M.A. M., 'The effect of the solid dust on the gaseous combustion 'PhD Thesis, Mech. Engineering Department-Leeds University England, 1984.PP;

[4] Norbert Peters,' Combustion Theory', CEFRC Summer School, Princeton, June 28th - July 2nd, 2010, PP; 1-284.

file:///C:/Users/korek/Downloads/Documents/Peters_Summerschool_reference.pdf

Date; 30-12-2021, Time; 11:11 PM

[4] Jamel M.A. M., 'The effect of the solid dust on the gaseous combustion 'PhD Thesis, Mech. Engineering Department-Leeds University England, 1984.

[5] Rebeca Pupo, ' Adiabatic Flame Temperature for Combustion of Methane', Undergraduate Journal of Mathematical Modeling: One + Two, Vol.3. Issue 2, Article 6, 2011 Spring, PP;1-11.

DOI:10.5038/2326-3652.3.2.6

[6] Smith, D. K.,' CHEMISTRY DATA BOOK', The University of York, October 2011, PP; 1-100.

file:///C:/Users/korek/Downloads/Documents/DATA BOOK%20FINAL%20VERSION%20for%20web%202011-12.pdf

Date; 30-12-2021, Time; 11:25 PM